Ok that works, also to check on the status of what exactly we are interested in for our ASTSWMO and Elizabeth Hoover outreach, and if that is still a priority. It might be that we know more after our meeting next week as to the level of cooperation we will have in doing site visits and such.

Yes, do you want to move it then since you are the organizer? Perhaps explain to Jackie that we are moving it to give us time to reorganize ORD's questions under the proposed topic areas as well as to add other questions that may be important for the White Paper we will be providing.

Yes, let's confirm in the branch meeting that initiating contact with universities is going to be our next step, and if everyone agrees, we can probably start on this, too.

That sounds good, it looks like everyone is free tomorrow at 10am. I was also going to ask if you think we should reach out to any other organizations on our list to arrange meetings for the latter half of next week, if possible, or the week after that. I think Clemson and Penn State would probably be able to confirm some of the information we receive from industry next week, and perhaps answer lingering questions we haven't yet addressed.

So Chris,

Now that I think about it, we have Kent's questions but we have our own too for which we really need the outline for the White Paper first, so I am going to put together a first rough draft (could you add subheadings as fitting for the detail) to it? From there, we will have the full list of questions and can begin to reorganize everything. Maybe we want to leave the conversation with Jackie for tomorrow after all, so as to think this through a bit. What do you think?

Sounds good, here is the latest version of the agenda. I am thinking this should capture the broad range of questions we have for the three organizations joining us. Since they are representing such a wide variety of orgs (and since Liberty Tire is joining) we should make it a point to ask about the varieties of tires used and the processes, too, which I've added in item III, subpart a.

Oh, we will also make a few corrections to the Agenda. Jackie has confirmed that she will be giving an overview of the Federal Action Plan, and Nicole wanted to add her name, as well as allow a bit more time for the introductions. So, whenever you have the Agenda ready with the change you were proposing to capture the input into the crumb rubber in addition to machinery and processes, please send the most current version forward, too.

Thank you,
